GENERAL

subject verb agreement worksheet 3rd grade

Published: September 3, 2026 | Index ID: #-

Mastering Subject Verb Agreement: A 3rd Grade Worksheet Guide

For many third grade teachers, parents, and students, one of the most common stumbling blocks in early language arts is subject verb agreement. Even though the concept seems simple—matching a singular subject with a singular verb and a plural subject with a plural verb—students often misapply it in everyday writing and speaking. That's where targeted practice comes in. A well designed subject verb agreement worksheet for 3rd grade can transform confusion into confidence.

In this article, we'll explore why subject verb agreement matters, how to create engaging worksheets, and how to use them effectively in the classroom. Whether you're a seasoned educator looking for fresh ideas or a parent who wants to help your child at home, you'll find practical strategies, sample activities, and resource links that make learning both fun and memorable.

Why Subject Verb Agreement Matters in 3rd Grade

At the third grade level, students are transitioning from simple sentence construction to more complex storytelling and expository writing. Mastery of subject verb agreement is critical for:

- Clarity of Communication – Incorrect agreement can change the meaning of a sentence or make it confusing.
- Grammar Foundations – It's the building block for more advanced grammar concepts like verb tenses, clauses, and participles.
- Reading Comprehension – Recognizing agreement helps students parse sentences in longer texts.
- Standardized Test Performance – Many tests assess grammar skills, and solid agreement skills boost scores.

Common Challenges for 3rd Grade Students

Even though the rule is straightforward, third graders often encounter specific pitfalls:

1. Compound Subjects – "The boy and the girl are playing." Students may mistakenly use a singular verb.
2. Indefinite Pronouns – Words like "everyone," "anyone," and "nobody" are singular, but students sometimes treat them as plural.
3. Collective Nouns – "The team is winning." The noun is singular, yet it represents many individuals.
4. Numbers and Quantifiers – "Five apples are on the table." The number is plural, but the noun remains singular.
5. Subject Object Confusion – "The teacher gave the students a quiz." The subject is "teacher," but the object "students" can mislead.

Designing an Effective Worksheet

A great worksheet is more than a list of fill in blanks. It should:

- Align with Learning Objectives – Each activity should target a specific agreement rule.
- Use Varied Contexts – Mix simple sentences, compound sentences, and narrative passages.
- Include Immediate Feedback – Provide correct answers or hints so students can self correct.
- Be Scalable – Offer extensions for advanced students and support for those who need more practice.

- Encourage Active Participation – Use color coding, matching games, or interactive digital components.

Step by Step Worksheet Creation

1. Define the Focus – Decide whether the worksheet will cover singular/plural, compound subjects, or collective nouns.
2. Draft Sample Sentences – Write 10–15 sentences that illustrate the rule. Vary the sentence length and complexity.
3. Insert Gaps or Options – Replace the verb with a blank or multiple choice options.
4. Add Visual Aids – Use icons or color coding to indicate singular vs. plural subjects.
5. Include a Mini Quiz – After the fill in section, add a short quiz to reinforce learning.
6. Review and Edit – Ensure there are no hidden errors and that the language is age appropriate.

Sample Worksheet: Subject Verb Agreement for 3rd Grade

Below is a ready to print worksheet that covers three core areas: singular vs. plural, compound subjects, and collective nouns. Feel free to copy, adapt, or expand upon it for your classroom.

Instructions

Read each sentence carefully. Write the correct verb in the blank. Use the word bank if you need help.

Word Bank

- is
- are
- has
- have
- runs
- run
- flies
- fly

Part 1: Singular vs. Plural

1. My dog ___ barks loudly every morning.
2. There ___ are many books on the shelf.
3. She ___ has a new backpack for school.
4. They ___ have a big backyard.
5. The bird ___ flies over the lake.

Part 2: Compound Subjects

1. The cat and the mouse ___ are hiding under the couch.
2. My brother and I ___ are going to the park.
3. The teacher and the students ___ are preparing for the test.
4. There ___ are many pencils in the box.
5. She and her friends ___ are planning a surprise.

Part 3: Collective Nouns

1. The team ___ is practicing for the championship.
2. The class ___ is working on a group project.
3. The flock of birds ___ are flying south.
4. The committee ___ has decided on a new rule.

5. The pack of dogs ___ are running in the park.

Answer Key

Part 1: is, are, has, have, flies

Part 2: are, are, are, are, are

Part 3: is, is, are, has, are

Interactive Digital Alternatives

While printable worksheets remain popular, digital tools can add an extra layer of engagement. Consider these options:

- Quizlet – Create flashcards with sentences and verbs. Students can practice with matching games or timed quizzes.
- Google Slides – Build an interactive slide deck where students click on the correct verb. You can embed a short video explaining the rule.
- Kahoot! – Turn subject verb agreement into a live quiz show. Students answer in real time, and you can track scores instantly.
- Padlet – Use a collaborative board where students post sentences, and classmates vote on the correct verb. This encourages peer learning.

Teaching Strategies That Complement Worksheets

Worksheets alone won't guarantee mastery. Pair them with these proven strategies:

1. Mini Lectures with Visual Aids

Use a whiteboard or smart board to illustrate how singular subjects pair with singular verbs and plural subjects pair with plural verbs. Draw a simple diagram: Subject !' Verb Highlight the subject's number (singular/plural) and show how the verb changes accordingly.

2. Sentence Scramble

Write a sentence on the board, then scramble the words. Have students rearrange them and identify the correct verb. This reinforces word order and agreement simultaneously.

3. Peer Review Sessions

After completing a worksheet, pair students to review each other's work. Encourage them to explain why a particular verb is correct, fostering deeper understanding.

4. Story Writing with a Twist

Ask students to write a short story that includes at least five compound subjects, three collective nouns, and a mix of singular and plural verbs. They can then read their stories aloud, and the class can correct any agreement errors.

5. Gamified Challenges

Organize a "Subject Verb Bingo" where each square contains a sentence. Students mark the square when they spot a correct agreement. Offer a small prize for the first to fill a line.

Parental Involvement: How to Support Learning at Home

Parents can play a crucial role in reinforcing subject verb agreement outside the classroom. Here are some tips:

- Read Together – Choose books that emphasize clear sentence structure. Pause to discuss the verb forms.
- Practice with Everyday Activities – When cooking, ask the child to describe each step, paying attention to verb agreement.
- Use Online Games – Many educational websites offer free, interactive grammar games suitable for third graders.
- Encourage Journaling – A daily journal entry can provide ample practice. Parents can review and discuss any errors in a supportive way.
- Celebrate Success – Praise correct usage. Positive reinforcement boosts motivation.

Resources for Teachers and Parents

Below is a curated list of free and low cost resources that provide worksheets, activities, and lesson plans on subject verb agreement.

Free Printable Worksheets

- EnglishGrammar.org – 3rd Grade Worksheets
- Teachers Pay Teachers – Subject Verb Agreement Pack
- Worksheetworks.com – Interactive Worksheets

Digital Tools

- Quizlet Flashcards
- Kahoot! – Interactive Quizzes
- Padlet – Collaborative Boards

Lesson Plans and Guides

- Read Write Think – Grammar Resources
- Education.com – Lesson Plans
- Scholastic – Teaching Tools

Assessing Progress and Adapting Instruction

Regular assessment

Baca Juga (Artikel Terkait)

- sims 3 trophy guide and roadmap
  URL: http://aylacream.com/sims-3-trophy-guide-and-roadmap.pdf
- the elf on the shelf story online
  URL: http://aylacream.com/the-elf-on-the-shelf-story-online.pdf
- biological classification pogil
  URL: http://aylacream.com/biological-classification-pogil.pdf
- kubota 3 cylinder diesel engine manual
  URL: http://aylacream.com/kubota-3-cylinder-diesel-engine-manual.pdf

Tags: #subject #verb #agreement #worksheet #grade